

Earth, Wind And Fire, In Time

Maurice White, Arlene Matza & Howard McCrary

Baby, in time love is gonna find its way
Into you life vanishing your times of gray
Baby, in time the past reveals the lessons
Maybe, in time, you'll learn to count your blessings

Baby, in time your fear is gonna fade away
We'll march in time to a lovers' hit parade
Your face, it shows hope for your sorrow,
Baby, in time there's a new tomorrow

Can somebody tell me why it takes so long to see
Does anyone know the why of life and its decree
Will somebody tell me why life goes the way it goes
Somebody may tell, but I don't think nobody knows
