Mighty men have come and gone but the pride lingers on Heritage will claim every man with desire to make a stand Some say pride's for the strong what's the use, holding on We say pride's everyone who wants to come, touch the sun

While you pout, is your world in doubt, it's all about Life won't let you out of the scheme Just believe in your dreams Pressing on self esteem

Now participate, time for love to motivate Energies to say, brighter you, brighter day

Set your mind in view, of the real man in you Time to check it out Pride relieves all your doubt
