

Echoboy, Wasted Spaces

Don't you want to know about my life don't you want to know about the broken windows don't you want to know about the boredom and don't you want to know about the wasted spaces why should I hide my feelings I thought that's what this song was all for the bitter man he is hiding behind the happy face on the happy door whatever happened to the tv whatever happened to the radio announcing all the new sounds to get us out of bed

no more mating call
just lie in bed
no more mating call
just lie in bed all day and think about all the wasted spaces i'm still searching for the new sound of my soul i'm still searching for the new sound to fill the hole I don't know what it sounds like but when it comes we'll feel it