

Echoes, Honour Lost

I won't look back
I'm not going that way
But it's so hard to keep focused
So hard for me to stay in this state of mind
And keep moving forward
When all honour's lost
Is this the fall of man

Light up the dark
Light up the dark
Let a new song sound in our hearts
Light up the dark
Light up the dark
This kingdom once fought for, lost to the past

I shouldn't look back
But I will
When all honour's lost
What is the cost?
On modern man
On everything
How much have we lost?
Is it everyone?
Everything?

A day will come
When the seas will roar
Take over earth
And the nations will fall

Light up the dark
Light up the dark
Let a new song sound in our hearts
Light up the dark
Light up the dark
This kingdom once fought for lost to the past
