Ed Sheeran, Boat

Came in through the embers Stayed out for the breeze I need to feel elements to remind me There's beauty when it's bleak

Stuck out long before lights down Why do I breathe? Oh, I know

The more that I love, the less that I feel The times that I jumped never were real They say that all scars will heal, but I know Maybe, I won't But the waves won't break my boat But the waves won't break my boat

Stones crash on the boardwalk The wind rush through the trees I'll keep my eyes peeled The memories always fall short Of what we could've been

Left out long before last call What do I need? Oh, I know

The more that I love, the less that I feel The times that I jumped never were real They say that all scars will heal, but I know Maybe, I won't But the waves won't break my boat But the waves won't break my boat

But the waves won't break my boat The waves won't break my boat

The more that I love, the less that I feel The times that I jumped never were real They say that all scars will heal, but I know Maybe, I won't And the waves won't break my boat
