

Eddi Reader, Wasting Time

Day is long, many hours to fill
It's alright if we let a few minutes spill

Where's the crime in wasting time
With you

Don't have to run when the pistol's fired
It's alright if we let the meter expire

Where's the crime in wasting time
With you

People love to talk about
Big things they're going to do
Oh I've been through it all
We can just remove ourselves
We don't have to prove ourselves
Worthy of their approval

We're only young once well that's one point of view
But it's alright if we've nothing better to do

Where's the crime in wasting time
Where's the crime in wasting time
Where's the crime in wasting time
With you
