

Eddie From Ohio, One

First it happened slowly, then quickly came
Unveiled as madness disguised as something sane
He never saw it happen, she never meant it to
He wrapped her up in his life, she stuck to it like glue
Round and round they spin
Weaving in the night
Tapestry will envelop them
They'll fight the good fight

(Chorus)

One heart cannot hold all of this
One man's grace is another man's hell
Two souls can melt together
'Til one can no longer find itself

They kept up appearances for family and friends
He coveted her soul, she put up no defense
We all began to notice unmistakable signs
They were never in the same room at the very same time
And in the hiding of their bedroom
One hybrid voice was heard
Two would shed their clothing
One body would emerge

Chorus

Round and round they spin
Weaving in the night
Tapestry will envelop them
They'll fight the good fight

Chorus

One heart cannot hold all of this
One heart cannot hold all of this
One heart cannot hold all of this
