

Eddy Arnold, Apples Raisins And Roses

I'll bring some apples for Jenny to match her cheeks so fair
And I'll swing her high if she starts to cry and tell her there and there
I'll bring some apples for Jenny

I'll bring some raisins for Sandy to match the color of her eyes
And I'll kiss her brow she's a woman now though it's hard to relize
I'll bring some raisins for Sandy

And I'll bring red roses for my Mary the kind she loves the best
When her warm eyes say I long with you stay
I'll answer till I'm put to rest I'll bring red roses for my Mary

When her warm eyes say...
