

Eddy Arnold, I Was Born To Love You

I was born to love you so what can I do

Sometimes you've hurt me deep inside
And you're so careless with my pride
But when you touch me the world is new
I was born to love you so what can I do

Sometimes you're distant and you're cold
And it's a stranger that I hold
But when you want me my dreams come true
I was born to love you so what can I do

No matter what I do I think about you
Those lonely hours when you're away
If I try to live my life without you
I couldn't make it for a day

Right or wrong my destiny is you dear my whole life through
I was born to love you and though how I do
