

Eden's Bridge, You Bring Me Joy

You bring me joy without measure
You bring me love I cant hold down
You bring me peace for my tomorrows
You are the light in my life now
On the train Ive watched the faces
Weary people looking down
Some are staring, few are smiling
Some too tired to look around
Do they reflect Your beauty?
And do they know Your freedom?
And when they look at me, well
I wonder do they see that

In the mirror Ive watched my face
And seen the cares that bring me down
Theres no spark in my expression
Time to turn this look around
Til I reflect Your beauty
And show I know Your freedom
So when they look at me, well
I know they will see
