

Edenbrigde, Starlight Reverie facing the constellations high above the sky if I could fly along and sway the milky way when venus has its row, great bear and polar star I see them dimming from afar, is's so bizarre

[pre-chorus]

starry sky

so come by forgotten traces so nigh your beauty reveals the laws of time

[chorus]

my straight reverie

in my sparkling eyes

just take me through the grand bright moonlight night your eyes can only see what your heart truely feels then it is time to turn and flee into my starlight reverie see tails of comets glowing in the outer sphere red giants in their spectral light, tonight the solar system of orion there appears lightyears away from mother earth, a star's birth

[pre-chorus]

[chorus]

[bridge]
