

Edgewater, Eyes Wired Shut

I've thrown away
Thrown away again the pills that make me
I've thrown away
Thrown away again the chance to want to change
I've thrown away
Thrown away again now I'm standing all alone
I've thrown away, Thrown away again

Eyes wired shut, running through my brain
Pulling back the skin it happens we're getting older
Eyes wired shut, running through my brain
It's all the same but in the end it keeps me going

I've thrown away
Thrown away again the fear of failing
I've thrown away
Thrown away again the noise that make me sane
Thrown away the chance to make it right
I wanna be, I wanna see, I wanna make it back to me!

Eyes wired shut, running through my brain
Pulling back the skin it happens we're getting older
Eyes wired shut, running through my brain
It's all the same but in the end it keeps me going

These drugs just waste away
The chance is gone to make the change to make me think that things are better

Eyes wired shut, running through my brain
Pulling back the skin it happens we're getting older
Eyes wired shut, running through my brain
It's all the same but in the end it keeps me going

Eyes wired shut, running through my brain
Pulling back the skin it happens we're getting older
Eyes wired shut, running through my brain
It's all the same but in the end it keeps me going
