

Edwin, Better Than This

She tripped on her words again
She stopped trying to make sense
By laughing at me
I feel sorry for her she doesn't know better
I ask her to stay away
She tries to say something intelligent to me

(chorus)

Any place would be better than this all hurts hanging like a specialty fish Never been born you don't even exist
Trade in your days to the night to find the light comes through and haunts your brain

So you walk on water to save your soul again last night couldn't turn away your dogs who bite Hey i i must rise to face you shakin all over the world tonight and i'm stuck in this room

(chorus)

say i save a second to fly over the moon tonight you profit from the pain if it feels right hey i i'm waiting to come why don't you take somebody home and take it from me you know

(chorus)

Feeling too good for the mood for i know there's a goodbye coming me all the time
