

Edwin, Close Your Eyes

To everyone out there
I think that you should know
While you're standing in the center
As the star of your own show

The lights come on and the juices flow
You smile and wave and then you have to go
They'll be eating from your hands
You know you're in control

So close your eyes
Overdosing on the high you ride
The sounds and the sights
Of the world you love, dragonfire wonderland

You look around and they're watching you
Taking notes on everything you do
Behind the shades that block the sight of what you really did last night

So close your eyes
Overdosing on the high you ride
The sounds and the sights
Of the world you love, dragonfire wonderland

So close your eyes
Overdosing on the high you ride
The sounds and the sights
Of the world you love, dragonfire wonderland

Close your eyes
Overdosing on the high you ride
The sounds and the sight
Of the world you love
