

Eggstone, Those Words

I've been riding on clouds these things mean much to me now I'm down on my knees I wish I'd been just a little bit better I feel like crying
these days are that sad
a lonely hour
our love has lost its power if you only hadn't said those words before you left now I am falling down I don't need much just tell me something else next time you leave now I am falling down been thinking of you since you turned away from me a photograph of our love it is us when we are happy
I feel like crying
a lonely hour
before you left now I am falling down
I don't need much just tell me something else
next time you leave now I am falling down I miss those happy days, I ask you kindly would you come back and stay with me
if you only hadn't said those words
before you left now I am falling down
I don't need much just tell me something else
