

Eiffel 65, Morning Time

Morning time,

Now

Time

Morning time
I sit and watch the sun arise
And everything seems so different now
Than it was just before
Dawning sun
As you go down my soul will run
I feel it all slip away
Slip out of my hands

I realize as I see
All the people holding tight
As I leave the world tonight, yeah
Meeting the light
I realize as I see
All the people holding tight
As I leave the world tonight, yeah
Meeting the light

Morning time
I sit here looking all around
And everything seems so colourful
And life's a miracle
Dawning sun
I here in the wind your sweet hum
I feel it all slip away
Slip out of my hands

I realize as I see
All the people holding tight
As I leave the world tonight, yeah
Meeting the light
I realize as I see
All the people holding tight
As I leave the world tonight, yeah
Meeting the light

Morning time
Oh it's morning time
Dawning sun
You will run away

I feel it all slip away
Slip out of my hands

I realize as I see
All the people holding tight
As I leave the world tonight, yeah
Meeting the light
I realize as I see
All the people holding tight
As I leave the world tonight, yeah
Meeting the light
