

Eldritch, Bio-Trinity

Losing faith day after day thinking of what the wise man said to me I'm too shy to tell the truth better turn to another page

And in the night, my darkened sight
can imagine you

Come to me
with your brand new pair of wings

Day by day people say I'm sick
I don't believe, but someone can create you now I'm afraid to stir the phial but you're afraid to spread your wings....

And in the night, my darkened sight
can imagine you

Come to me
with your brand new pair of wings

Now I'm here waiting for a sign wasted time, I know that you'll never show my opinion doesn't count much but no one ever saw your face

And in the night, my darkened sight
can imagine you

Come to me
with your brand new pair of wings
