

Electric Six, Computer

From the desert came the ocean
From the ocean came the moon
From California, computer
Do a dance for me computer
Make love to me computer
Make a baby computer

I don't want no virtual landscape or Windows 95
I just want someone to talk to
I'm not looking for a loser
Computer abuser
My machine won't let me

These machines were never meant for love
These machines were never meant to be girls
These machines are just machines that want me
For a machine!

From the desert came the ocean
From the ocean came the moon
From California
Computer!

These machines were never meant for love
These machines were never meant to be girls
These machines are just machines that want me
For a machine!

These machines were never meant for love
These machines were never meant to be girls
These machines are just machines that want me
For a machine!
