

Electric Six, Tiny Little Men

Don't ask too many questions my son
You might not like what you find

There's tiny little men held against their will held against their will tonight
There's tiny little men
held against their will
held against their will yeah

Well the weatherman says there's a storm on the loosh-ah tonight Take cover my dear!

There's tiny little men
held against their will
held against their will tonight
There's tiny little men
held against their will
held against their will yeah
HOW!

There's tiny little men
held against their will
held against their will tonight
There's tiny little men
held against their will
held against their will tonight

Tiny little men!
held against their will
held against their will tonight
There's tiny little men
held against their will
held against their will yeah