

Elefant, London

She came in my life without warning
And gave me the night
She woke up the next morning
And started to cry

I said to her you are my girl
She covers up her face
I said to her you are my one
She walks the other way

Why has my love gone to London
Why has my love gone

She left a picture in my hand
So I put it up on the wall
And I opened up the window
To hear her call

I said to her you are my girl
She covers up her face
I said to her you are my one
She walks the other way

Why has my love gone to London
Why has my love gone

I said to her you are my little girl
She covers up her face
I said to her you are my one

Why has my love gone
Why has my love gone
Why has my love gone
Why has my love...
