

Elevation, Be Free

I heard her say
She can't stay awake
For one more revolution
Baby what's your solution?
What good would it do?
It's just another fair weather day
With not too much to say
And no point in conversation
About that new revelation
Cause it was all just a dream
And nothing seems fair at all

The world still turns as you sleep
So just let it be
Come on be free
Yeah it's all right to believe
In the things you can't see
Come on be free

What if we all
Tore down the walls
And built a revolution
Maybe that's the solution
But what good would it do
Remember the day
When we all just stayed awake
With anticipation
About that new revelation
But it was all just a dream
And nothing seems fair at all

The world still turns as you sleep
So just let it be
Come on be free
Yeah it's all right to believe
In the things you can't see
Come on be free

Don't you stop if it makes you happy
Don't you wait on a brighter day

The world still turns as you sleep
So just let it be
Come on be free
Yeah it's all right to believe
In the things you can't see
Come on be free
