

Eleventeen, Reviving Ophelia

Please don't you self destruct tonight
I wanna see you in the morning light
I know times are getting tough right now
But I know you'll make it through somehow

These things, we take for granted everyday
This life, is getting harder all the time
Will heal your wounds
So stay awake for me tonight
If you find me, I'll be licking champagne off of ships
Digging through my pockets finding pocket lint
If you find me, I'll be licking champagne off of ships
Digging through my pocket lint

If you go, if you need someone just call
I can help you but I can't solve it all
Please don't think you are all alone
If you're hurt just let me know

These things, we take for granted everyday
This life, I know it gets harder all the time
Will heal your wounds
So stay awake for me tonight
If you find me, I'll be licking champagne off of ships
Digging through my pockets finding pocket lint
If you find me, I'll be licking champagne off of ships
Digging through my pocket lint

Don't you self destruct tonight
I wanna see you in the morning light
And I know that times are getting tougher right now
But you will make it through somehow

If you find me, I'll be licking champagne off of ships
Digging through my pocket lint

If you go, you're all I have right now
And I know you'll make it through somehow
Stay awake for me tonight
I wanna see you in the morning light.
