

Elf Power, Everlasting Scream

Who flies above them all to the past the millions crawl calling from another place where the ancient memories awake don't let them fade
the everlasting scream is on the way

Same spirits over me that pull from underneath can you hear just what they say calling out to you so far away
don't let them fade

Still lying in the dark far away from where you are
where the ancient memories awake
don't let them fade
