

Elk City, White Walls

Oh, when you stare at these white walls, they're not too dull for you.
Oh, when you try to paint these white walls, a little paint won't do.
White walls won't tell me I'm no good.

Oh, when you try to mask these white walls, they're colorful inside.
I take a hammer to these white walls to watch you run and hide.
White walls won't tell me I'm no good.
White walls, they never talk back to me.

You say : "White walls won't tell me I'm no good.
White walls they never talk back to me.
White walls they have no character.
White walls are safe, that's safe with me"
