

Elly Tess, Only You

Only You

I've been staring at my phone
In the kitchen all alone
Waiting for tonight to come

My friends singing in the streets
Champagne on the balcony
No one's dancing next to me

You only show up two long hours late
I only drink all of my fears away
I may be coy but what I want is clear
What I want is clear

I finally got you where I want you
One of us is bound to spill the truth
And if it's not you, then I'm going to Cuz I got nothing left to lose
Only you

You can find me playing cool
In the corner of the room
But I only want you

I can't wait for this part
Nothing gets me like your laugh
I could never get enough

It's funny how we're playing innocent
You started talking to all of my friends
I'm staying close so I can touch your hand touch your hand

So it goes
Your fingers in my hair, I lost my breath
I know, this night we won't forget
