

Elysian Fields, Un Sentiment / I Was Dying Once

Worthless, mourns, infinity divine
Through the pale sunrise, macabre souls, sour again
Sour...

It is strange when I kiss the eyes of salvation
The night becomes mine. The queen...

As your wings were closing
I was dying once again
You will soon become one with me
Melancholy...

I have felt the wrath, now, the sadness I provoke
Beyond the dream of mortals, beyond my sky of sorrow

I have been in darkness
I was not alone
Blood was dripping from my soul
False feelings, lies of my world

When the horizons will be
Then far away to reach
I'll be there to cover all the misery
The sweetness; The thoughts and my dream

In the sight of love my precious
The innocence, the awareness
Even a shade can be hurt
Even a shade can feel the pain

Devoted till I last
A story so tragic
Weakness and rapture
I fade can you see me
I'm lying (there) forgotten
Take my Hand
