

Elysium, Terra Mater Dolorosa

when the earth is dying no one shall be born sun forever closed it's eye our mother cries halplessly we let her die slowly in pain we lost the key to golden gates we all were blind, we were so blind what's gained ? this great demise weeping old men on the shore terra mater dolorosa all her children all is lost to see the fear in the handful of dust to find a hope in a morning light to see the signs... to hear the call watch the birds they fly away ther's hope for them but we have to stay don't ask me why we were so blind we were so blind, we all were blind chained to our drowning vessel watch the clouds they burn in sky majesty of unknown wisdom will be shown on day of wrath