

Embodiment, Time

for every word you say and all the moments wasted i'm finding out you're made for me with every look i catch and truth that is unspoken i'm praying that you miss me i'm nearly dead since you departed and i wait for you, i wait for you and you said time is all we have before us hold our moments and don't turn away

i'm going out on faith and bringing my devotion you can trust i won't shame you

and i wait for you, i wait for you and i said

time is all we have before us

and right away i knew we could make it cos we're living and learning and sacrifice tells us what we're gaining in losing and taking i'm holding out for the one that loved me forever no playing and in a way they could say we're crazy for hoping and praying i'll wait for you

time is all we have before us and hold our moments and don't turn away
