

Embrace, Feelings I Thought You Shared

The feeling I thought you shared
Was never there
And still you turn around pretending that you care
With every lie
You make it hard
You've gotta let somebody down
Before you go too far
And I feel
Something that we can't do about the way you feel you've been

The feeling can't be repaired
If it's not there
You've gotta walk around pretending that you care
And then a time
Will come too soon
You're gonna break somebody's heart
Before you go too far
Just hear
There's nothing no one can do about the way they feel inside
Before you try and mend what you've done
Realize there's nothing that you've done wrong
That we can't mend
