

Embrace, Target

You flicker like a mile high neon sign
Hot and cold so no one knows your mind
I was gonna let you win but I won't break
For an hour I held the moon on a string
Now this moment left till the world begins
Everything is possible its beautiful
When will you wake up see what's happening
Right before your eyes no
If you must blow hot and cold take a swing
You will hit the target every time
So I look before I leap and I see
Wolves are at the door with my enemies
I was gonna let them in but then you say
Watch the stars defeating my enemy
It's too far for them to bring you to me
And everything is possible it's beautiful
When will you wake up see whats happening
Right before your eyes no
If you must blow hot and cold take a swing
You will hit the target every time
When will you wake up see whats happening
Right before your eyeyeOhhh
If you must blow hot and cold take a swing
You will hit the target every time
I reached the waters edge
I wished that I could hold
Everybody's breath until
No one has any left
You take me to the edge
You're being called to follow
The foot prints that I left behind
Listen up I'll sing to you how I can
Out of luck now time is all that we have
Think about yourself and you'll kill all you love
I know our makers love all the mess the make
Out of sight behind these eyes you'll stay
Where everything is possible
It's beautiful
When will you wake up see whats happening
Right before your eyeyeOhhh
If you must blow hot and cold take a swing
You will hit the target every time
