Embraze, Mystic

I want to see the brighter moon Where the stars are the bridge Between the mountains and the sky Away from the low windows Veiling the sky

You touch nothing with your hand You can only feel the sun in your soul Touch me, touch me Cause I wanna sense the freedom

I want to walk without concrete walls Without a knife in my back Here only tears flow with me Away from the dump of the double-faced