

Emilio Navaira, Any Little Lie

What more can I do
What else can I say
As you take a love that's lasted years
And throw it all away

I know you can't stay
To give it one more try
But if you'll pretend for one more night
I promise I won't ask you why
And I'll believe your alibi

Any little lie right now
Would be better than the truth
If the truth means goodbye
And little lie would do
I'll make it easy on you baby
I'm not that hard to please
Any little lie
Will do

The sun is going down
And as it fades from view
My mind just cannot comprehend
The thought of ever losin' you
To the arms of someone new

Chorus

Any little lie
Will do