

Emily Lily, What in you I love

You are an ideal for me
What in you I love
it will always be important
No gems will convince me
so that I don't love you
You are both sweet and crazy
I'm waiting when you call me
In the diary I lined your name from hearts
I wrote "I love you forever" and I closed the diary
For you I can leave to Hollywood
But only with you, always with you

Chorus:

Since the certain time I'm loving you very much
Everyday I think about the day of our cognition
I think that you are charming, sweet and very crazy
I was stupid that I hadn't exploited the chance
Now I must then again wait for the second occasion
You are for me so nice
Very but it very much I like you
You will always be very important
No gems will convince me
so that I don't love you

Chorus:

Since the certain time I'm loving you very much
Everyday I think about the day of our cognition
I think that you are charming, sweet and very crazy
I was stupid that I hadn't exploited the chance
Now I must then again wait for the second occasion
You, you are most wonderful
Who is standing us in the way
When then again we will meet

Since the certain time I'm loving you very much
Everyday I think about the day of our cognition

Chorus:

Since the certain time I'm loving you very much
Everyday I think about the day of our cognition
I think that you are charming, sweet and very crazy
I was stupid that I hadn't exploited the chance
Now I must then again wait for the second occasion
