

Emma Andersson, Who I Am

Who I Am

What if I told you that what you see
Is just a image is not me
So easy for you to create a sigh
Everybody is giving me advice
You think you have me
Figure out

But you don't know my feelings
So understand
That it takes more to see who I really am
Baby I'm not that perfect
I just someone who wish that
You could see
That this is me
And who I am

What if I said I'm tired of
Thinking that I did something wrong
How come that I can't be myself
Aloud to make my own mistakes
You think you have me

But you don't know my feelings
So understand
That it takes more to see who I really am
Baby I'm not that perfect
I just someone who wish that
You could see
That this is me
And who I am

Everybody is giving their advice
So easy for you to create a sigh
You think you have me

But you don't know my feelings
So understand
That it takes more to see who I really am
Baby I'm not that perfect
I just someone who wish that
You could see
That this is me
And who I am

(But you don't know my feelings
So understand)
Who I am
(That it takes more to see who I really am)
Baby I'm not that perfect
You could see
That this is me
And who I am
