

Emmanuelle Seigner, You Think You're A Man

Turn around
stand up like a man and look me in the eye.
Turn around
take one final look at what you've left behind.
Then walk away from the greatest lover you have ever known.
yes walk away
you're telling me that you can make it on your own By yourself all alone without my help mister you just made a big mistake.

You think you're a man
but you're only a boy
You think you're a man
you are only a toy.
you think you're a man
but you just couldn't see You were not man enough to satisfy me.

Shut the door
take a look around and tell me what you find.
Shut the door
take a giant step for you and all mankind.
Then don't come back
I always gave you so much more than you deserve
No don't come back
'cause no one makes a fool of me You've got a nerve to walk away mark the words I'm gonna say Mister you just made a big mistake:
