

Emo Side Project, Curl Up And Die

don't know what to do now that i lost you can't hardly breathe, cant get any sleep feeling like this is the worst i've ever felt use to sing songs that make me smile now all they do is make me cry use to love the blue in your eyes but now its turning black i remember holding hands in the sun and now you're gone all i wanna do is be with you right now this is a mess or another test don't break my heart i've tried so hard to make you happy so what have you done to me treat me like this, this is it and now i'll pray to god i'll ask him, could i survive? i think i'll live through these nights where i have cried and written songs for you cried these tears for you but now im through with them, and through with you
