

Emo Side Project, What?

sitting in my living room trying to get the nerve to pick up the phone and call you and say "hello" and tell what you are to me and say "without you i'm nothing" and "i want you to be your boyfriend"; but what about that other guy what if you say no i might die but if you say yes i will too you mean this much to me you taught me how to count to three and i can't live without you didn't call yesterday but today's a brand-new day and my shirt says i am cool and my shoes are wearing thin i hope this soon all will end what's your number again?

looking through the past to find out if it well last i know i love you and i can count on you and you can count on me to believe in you so when i ask you out today just to see what you will say i hope you say yes i really do well today's a new day the streets are filled with rain and still all i want is you
