

Emo Side Project, Writing Songs high up on a hillside far away from here i watched my true love fall apart from jealousy and fear all she had to tell me all she had to say is that she can't be with me i'm just too far away, away i know that i did love her i guess i always will but she's too busy living life to ever just stand still and i'm too busy writing songs to make her fall in love with me too busy writing songs way up in the air in castles in the sky fresh air clouds are blue and birds are free to roam and fly your hair is beautiful just like yesterday but you won't be with me you're just too far away
