

Emperor, Depraved

... he looked upon the world and saw that it was still depraved

as him
though not like him
for him, as all

but closed
like them
not him

unaware he was already caught within their cycle
with them outside
depraved

instinctive
rebellion
possessed
by bestial despair
he fought
this law
and broke
the spell

"So, this is why I built my empire fled from the truths unto which they conspire"

in spirit born a stranger a counterpart in mind the seeker raised to bury a freak among the blind encountered with mysteries on his mission to reverse their ways he sought a life among the dead with refuge in an endless maze

...before the silence...

"This can not be the purpose of my presence.
What then is the call of my return?"