

EMPYR, The One

I'm alright, the sun is rising
I fell in love with a memory
I won't forget you, will you forgive me
Will you erase my sins

Like the moon needs attention
Like the old trees wait for lovers
Like this stream loves virgin bodies
Like my words needs your thoughts

You're the one, you can keep me warm
Touch my hand, I can feel your calm
You're the one, you're the song inside
You're the light that shines across the land

Like the old men need their old bones
Like the old kids keep their old dolls
Like a new day needs a pure sky
Like the stars need your eyes

I'm the messenger, you're the messiah
Cuz the newborns need a new world
