England Dan And John Ford Coley, Sad To Belor

Met you on a springtime day You were mindin your life And I was mindin mine, too

Lady when you looked my way I had a strange sensation And, darlin thats when I knew...

That its sad to belong to someone else When the right one comes along, Yes, its sad to belong to someone else When the right one comes along.

Oh, I wake up in the night And I reached beside me Hopin you will be there

But instead I find someone Who believe in me when I said Id always care.

Oh its sad to belong to someone else When the right one comes along, Yes, its sad to belong to someone else When the right one comes along.

So I lived my life in a dreamworld For the rest of my days Just you and me walkin hand in hand In a wishful memory Oh, I guess thats all That it would ever be.

Wish I had a time machine I could make myself go back Until the day I was born, And I would live my life again and rearrange it so that III be Yours from now on.
