

Enrico Garzilli, There Will Always Be Love

Blanche

When the dark comes so hard for me
When gloom is all that I see
With you I'll find my way
We'll turn around the day
For there will always be love
When my world sees nothing to hope for
When I hear rumours of war
Somehow we'll find a way
To make a brighter day
For there will always be love
We'll choose to be happy and free
Look and we'll find the right key
New doors will open you'll see
When I feel so sad and alone
When I feel I've lost my last charms
I know I'll find a way
To turn around the day
For there will always be love
I know even though I can't see
Somewhere waiting for me
There will always be love
Somewhere waiting for me
There will always be love
