

Ensign, Revolutions End

Every word you said
Meant so much to me
Not afraid to speak your mind
Or go against the crowd
I heard all the things you said
Not a gang opinion
Just what you believed
Sometimes words spoke loudest
And actions fall short
I heard all the things you said
Words, speak louder than actions with no thought
You, you made the difference
What you said came from the heart
Every word you said
Meant so much to me
