

Ensign, The Road Less Traveled

In these days of darkness
Ruled by fear and hate
Struggling with our conscience
Only serves to defeat
Giving up is no answer
Giving in proves no cure
To maladies in life
Through choices that were poor
We need to continue searching
For the brighter side
That deeper hidden meaning
The road less traveled by
Taking back what is ours
In these times of corruption
Marked by pain, deceit
Take solace in the knowledge
The only time we beat
Is when we give away our freewill
To follow along blindly
We need to continue searching
For the brighter side
That deeper hidden meaning
The road less traveled by
We need to take back what is ours no
Pushed aside, one to many times
Standing tall and proud
Taking charge of our lives
The time has come to fight
The oppression that rules our life
Ours is the power to overcome
We refuse to subside
In this desperate times
We will ever truly be
Free
