

Entombed, Demon

Demon, come live in me possession, fill me with disease temptation, a fire set aflame feral instincts help me go insane

Shameless, searching endlessly to appease the burning urge in me hunger of a thousand wolverines satisfaction by any means

Demon, replace all I've been taught impulse, erase all second thought gambling in this carnal game nothing is all where everything's the same Trembling in the balance exploring new extremes all sweet forms of self-destruction coming to me in my dreams

Thoughts of cruelty and pain in my brain - in my blood lose control of lust and anger
