

Epiclore, Vox Dei

Though for a single moment lost in time
I can sense a reason in this all
It never ceases to defy our minds
for as we've once risen
so we'll fall

Show me life's delight
Help me gather reasons to rejoice
Gazing out with blinded eyes
All the while
we're listening for the voice
Awaiting reply

Under skies
I find that state again where I sink into a cosmic sea A stripe of silent stars surrounds my soul
I can almost feel they're watching me

And the world we're passing by is just a grain of sand in the sky And we're all but a fading sigh
Living out our time
Living out our time
in a blink of an eye

Show me life's delight
(we're falling down)
Help me gather reasons to rejoice
(empty inside)
Gazing out with blinded eyes
(and I wonder why)
All the while
we're listening for the voice
Awaiting reply
Awaiting reply...

And so if you hear
I hope you listen

In the dark I wish upon a star

Show me life's delight
(we're falling down)
Help me gather reasons to rejoice
(empty inside)
Gazing out with blinded eyes
(and I wonder why)
All the while
we're listening for the voice
Awaiting reply

(Gazing out with blinded eyes
and I wonder why)
All the while
we're listening for the voice
Awaiting reply

Times are changing faith is running low

Mankind seeking the essence of the soul Values of our life
are redefined Still we're searching for a voice divine

Halki maan me kuljemme
taivaan taa katsomme Mist tuun ma ihminen tuskin saan tiet sen
