

Erasure, Don't Suppose

(A.Bell/V.Clarke)

i don't suppose it's gonna do any good if i sit down and write you a letter you made it plain and i guess i understood there's no way that things can get better i was never so wrong i thought we would go on forever always together now it's hard to believe you would walk out and leave me crying feel like i'm dying

dream maker, heart breaker i would do anything you say
dream maker, heart breaker you could take everything away i've never felt like i feel lonely tonight like a river so deep filled with sorrow i won't be sleeping i won't turn out the light i've got heartache enough for tomorrow and i know i should learn but wherever i turn you find me always remind me dream maker, heart breaker...(chorus) and i want you to know that it's hurting me so inside me need you beside me dream maker, heart breaker...(repeat till fade)
