

Erasure, Fly Away

Fly away from a broken heart
You have your love I've got to know
What you say to me
Why d'you throw it all away
Where you go to I don't know

As tears of angels whisper softly through the trees
Calling to me hear their gently sighing pleas
I'm a fool if I think my babe'll come back
I'll be waiting still I'm starting to crack
But I care if you forget about me
And I cry and I cry till you take it all from my heart

Fly away upon the wings of love

Though I'll be here again tomorrow
Like an angel falling softly upon her knees
Calling to me hear her gently sighing pleas

I'm a fool if I think my babe'll come back
I'll be waiting still I'm starting to crack
And I care if you forget about me
And I cry and I cry till you take it all from my heart

I'm a fool if I think my babe'll come back
I'll be waiting still I'm starting to crack
And I care if you forget about me
And I cry and I cry till you take it all from my heart
