Eric Clapton, Say What You Will

Say what you will Good love is hard to find I've had my fill of the hurtin' kind

Take alot of money To buy up all the pain

Take alot of honey
To fill me up and put me back
On my feet again

You've seen the worst Still you find the best of me My love was cursed Loosin' destiny

Take alot of livin'
To dry up all the tears
Take alot of grinnin'
To cheer me up and put me back
On my feet again

You know I needed a friend I could tell my troubles to And you have been my friend So I will give my love to you Good love from me to you

Here it comes again
I feel I'm not good enough
Can't remember when
It ever felt so tough

Take alot huggin'
Drive away the fear
Take alot of lovin'
To pick me up and put me back
On my feet again

You know I needed a friend I could tell my troubles to And you have been my friend So I will give my love to you Good love from me to you

I know you needed a friend You could tell your troubles to And I'll be your friend And I will give my love to you Good love from me to you

Good love Good love from me to you Good love
