Eric Roberson, Right Back To You

Back in the day, before there was love before there was us, before I knew what it really meant to have me somebody who's really there giving there all for me back in the day, I didn't know none before we was one I learned on the run what it would take to keep our hearts happy straight to the end can't let this chance pass me baby we made mistakes but I see just what it takes the last thing i want us to make is steps that we'll take us far from our fate girl how can something so clear just push back something so near Now I don't want to be cause of your tears, your worries your fears should all disappear

there's no need to worry just that I am ready even when I'm away my heart stands right back here with you whenever you call girl my heart reaches back for you no matter how far away my heart runs right back to you back in the day I would have jsut ran but now here I stand I'm amking these plans what's in a day if you're not my future why give these words if they do not move you I wanna just build, I wanna just heal (?) it feels, when out on the field most of my boys think that I've gone crazy cause since I met you none of these girls phase me baby it's you I hold, lately it's hard to let go it's crazy even when I know that I just have to go I can't pull to the door I know it has to be love you fell down from above as if you came down here just for me to somehow help me see how heaven can be

Bridge More ever more You will find so much love (?) in me I've learned to love take your time so that you can see you can trust in me So Baby, won't you lay back My lady, won't you relax I got you, take care of that your front to your back your sides and all that all that is mine what comes to mind put those behind love your design (?) rewind
